EDUCATION

The University of Auckland

Auckland, New Zealand

Ph.D. Candidate, School of Computer Science

November 2018 – May 2022 (expected)

- Supervisors: Jiamou Liu and Bakh Khoussainov
- Thesis: From One to Infinity: New Algorithms for Reinforcement Learning and Inverse Reinforcement Learning

The University of Auckland

Auckland, New Zealand

First Class Honours in Computer Science

July 2017 – July 2018

- Dissertation: Network Building: Methodological Foundations and Algorithmic Analysis

Beijing Institute of Technology

Beijing, China

Bsc in Computer Science & Technology

August 2013 – June 2017

WORK EXPERIENCE

The University of Auckland

Auckland, New Zealand

Research Fellow

June 2021 – Present

- I am currently affiliated with the University of Auckland as a research fellow.

Alibaba DAMO Academy

Beijing, China

Research Intern

September 2020 – January 2021

- I served as a principal contributor and programmer of a research project, where I proposed a novel framework that combines deep learning and bandit techniques to enhance the efficiency and accuracy of the recommender system.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

My main research interest lies in (deep) reinforcement learning in multi-agent systems. I aim to solve issues modelled as multi-agent systems from the learning and game-theoretical perspective. Along this line, my ultimate goal is to reinforce the insights into rules of applying reinforcement learning in conjunction with game theory. Very recently, my focus moves to reinforcement learning in games with tons of agents. I attempt to explore exciting results in such scenarios through combining reinforcement learning and the mean field theory.
